

That's freedom

One evening Vickie, mum and Kaylee walked to a waterhole near their camp. It had been a hot day and they wanted to see what animals came for a drink. They heard bird chatter that got louder as they got nearer. Then all of a sudden the sky was full of green and yellow flapping wings. They had disturbed a flock of wild budgerigars.

Budgerigars live wild and free throughout central Australia. They love to fly in large flocks, twisting and turning together like thousands of planes in formation. It must be great fun, certainly better than being confined alone to a cage as many pet budgerigars are.

Listen to God! Exodus 13:3-10

3500 years ago the Israelites (Jewish people) were slaves in Egypt. They had no freedom. Life was miserable. But God saw their misery and set them free. Jews still remember that time with a celebration called the Passover.

Can you help the budgerigar find his way out of the cage so he can fly away free?

Binara the nosey frilled neck lizard wants to know what God promises we can be free from in Romans 8:1-2 in the Bible.

Talk to God!

Thank you Lord God that Jesus came to free us from sin and it's effects. Thank you that we can be free to love you, to enjoy your world, and to love each other.
