

Blowing in the wind

“What kind of tree is this?” asked Kaylee looking at some large bright yellow flowers. “It’s a Kapok tree.” said mum. After the flowers die off and the seed pods dry, they will burst open and release thousands of seeds covered in a mass of fine light fibres that act like a parachute. The seeds will blow far and wide on the wind.

Listen to God! John 3:1-8

Jesus told Nicodemus the Holy Spirit is like the wind. We can’t see the wind but we can feel it, see what it does and sometimes hear it. Like the wind, the Holy spirit is sometimes gentle, sometimes strong. The Bible tells us he lives in everyone who trusts in Jesus.

“Blow” each second letter away, starting with X, by crossing it out to find a special promise about the Holy Spirit.

Mum told the children that when she was a little girl, her family visited an Aboriginal community. This lady used to spin kapok into cotton using a stick. She made this lap lap (native skirt) out of the spun cotton and gave it to grandma.

Txhje tSupviqrwiat ewcirtl yshioow dypofu gwzhhaxt jics ktcrlube. nTqhme wpreaokptlse yodf utdhiifs zwhoxrjld vcbawnbnrogt sancpckempqt ctshre aScphiysigt, jbkebcnaxumsle dtshoely pdfo enfost aswete eojr ykonfoxw zhsihm. aBruqt dyhoku ckxnnopw dtrhye eSkplifrdist xwjhao vigs hwjittbh kylopu uatncd xwwialql tkdesecp vohn blnikvjionpg sixn lyaoeu. John 14:17 Contemporary English Version

Binara the nosey frilled neck lizard wants to know what the Holy Spirit was like when he came at Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4)

Listen to God!

Thank you Holy Spirit that although I can’t see you, I know you are real.